

ACCEPTED FORMS OF IDENTIFICATION

Whether you vote early, vote on Election Day, or if you need to “cure” a rejected mail-in ballot, you will be asked to provide a copy of a valid and current form of identification. Florida state law requires a voter to present a valid photo ID with signature identification at the polling place. If the picture identification does not contain the signature of the voter, an additional form of identification that provides the voter’s signature shall be required.

ACCEPTED FORMS OF IDENTIFICATION

When a voter presents his or her picture identification to the clerk or inspector and the voter's address on the picture identification matches the voter's address in the supervisor's records, the voter may not be asked to provide additional information or to recite his or her home address.

Voters Without Identification

Voters without acceptable forms of identification should NOT be turned away from the polls. If you are asked to leave or told you are not eligible to vote due to lack of identification, request a provisional ballot. Voters without acceptable identification are permitted to vote with a provisional ballot, which will be evaluated later for eligibility by a canvassing board.

You have the right to provide written evidence supporting your voting eligibility; however, it must be provided to the Supervisor of Elections by 5p.m. on the second day after the election. You also have the right to find out if your ballot was counted, and if not, the reason why. If you have any questions or concerns, you may contact the Supervisor of Elections:
